December 2: Pastor Kathy will preach on this first Sunday of Advent as we start our Advent series focusing on the hymn "When a Child is Born". This first Sunday we focus on the safest place and jeopardy. As we prepare to celebrate the birth of God's son we find ourselves living in a chaotic and insecure world. We look to Isaiah 64:1-9 to explore how do the promises of God help us with our fears?

December 9: Pastor Chelsea will preach with a spotlight on obscurity. We turn to Mark 1:1-8 as we focus on preparation. What does it mean to prepare the way of the Lord? What should we be doing in our lives to prepare for Jesus?

December 16: Pastor Chelsea will preach on how we find Jesus not in the finest clothes but born in poverty. We will read Luke 1:47-55 and explore how sometimes the finery we see this time of year is really just a cover—a cover for the brokenness that exists in our lives.

December 23: Pastor Kathy will preach on the fourth and final Sunday of Advent, as we hear Luke 1:26-28 and ponder what favor Mary found with God, and what favor means for us.

December 24: We will explore the Christmas story at 4:30, 7:00 and 11:00 p.m. with candlelight, hymns, and Scripture. 4:30 p.m. will include a pageant for families and 11:00 p.m. will include contemplative Communion.

December 30: Pastor Chelsea will preach on waiting. After a season of Advent waiting we will explore what it means to wait as we trust God’s promises. We will read the story of Simeon and Anna in Luke 2:22-40 and ponder how they are an example of faith in waiting for us.

Advent is perhaps one of the most misunderstood seasons in the church year. We meet it every year, and yet every year it seems like the world around us rolls straight from Thanksgiving to Christmas. There is no waiting, we move straight to the joy and the celebration. Of course this makes total sense. Christmas songs, movies, and traditions can bring light and cheer to our lives. I am certainly no Christmas Grinch; my spouse has to remind me constantly that Christmas songs belong after Thanksgiving, not before. Christmas is about the arrival of God among us, it is about celebration, hope, and joy.

Advent is about waiting. One of those certainly sounds a lot more fun than the other. But Advent is what grounds Christmas in reality. Because the truth is that in many moments in our lives we are waiting. We are waiting for hope in a world that often feels full of uncertainty. We are waiting for love in places where we carry hurt and shame. We are waiting for our world to reflect God’s dreams, for it to be a place of safety, freedom, peace, and justice for all.

Advent meets us where we are, in the midst of the darkness and in the midst of the waiting, and reminds us that waiting is not a barrier to God. It reminds us that God acts in the midst of waiting, in the mist of the mess and the broken. It reminds us that we look not for a big, triumphant flourish of light and hope that will neatly wrap all our problems up with a bow.

Instead, we look for the little signs of love and peace, we look for the tiny baby born, a sign that at first glance looks like nothing out of the ordinary but is a truly extraordinary sign of God’s tender love among us.

In the book Home for Christmas: Tales of Hope and Second Chances, Gregory Boyle writes, “Advent is about trading in the vindictive, disapproving God for the God who loves us without measure and without regret. This God does not share in the demonizing in which we all engage. This God shuns no one, ever, no exceptions. Advent is about allowing ourselves to be reached by the tenderness of God and then choosing to be that tenderness in the world."

This Advent, we wait once again. Waiting is a kind of holy slowing down. It’s a way of seeing the ways we yearn for tenderness, for the kind of love that truly is unconditional. It’s a way of seeing the ways we miss the mark, slowing down in our thoughts long enough to catch the judgments we make without even noticing. And it’s a way of slowing down so that we can practice tenderness to those around us.

How can you engage in this time of holy slow down in a season that is often so busy? Maybe that looks like inviting someone who might be lonely over for dinner or coffee. Maybe that looks like taking the time to notice God in the faces of those you walk past in the store. Maybe that looks like taking a few minutes each morning in silent prayer, not speaking but just sitting aware of God’s presence.

When we take the time to slow down and wait, we begin to see the extraordinary in our everyday, the signs that what we celebrate at Christmas is still true today: God’s tender love is here with each of us in each and every moment of our lives.

Stephen Ministers are members of Asbury who are trained and commissioned to provide one-to-one lay caring ministry to people in crisis or with other needs for care. They participate in supervision twice a month and initially commit to serve for two years and may renew their commitment.

What Stephen Ministers Do

Pray
Stephen Ministers pray daily for their care receivers and strive to worship God always in word and deed. They reveal the love of God to those who most need to see it.

Care for the Care Receiver
Stephen Ministers are assigned to care receivers—people in crisis who need caring support. The Stephen Minister’s care helps the care receiver resolve the difficulty and achieve growth.

Most Stephen Ministers meet once a week with their care receivers for about an hour at a time. They may also check in with their care receiver by text or telephone, particularly when the care receiver is going through a difficult time.

Stephen Ministers use the following special skills to care for their care receivers:

Listening. Most care receivers need someone simply to listen—really listen—as they talk through their difficulties.

Dealing with feelings. Stephen Ministers reflect the care receiver’s content, feelings, and ideas and ask open-ended questions to help the care receiver recognize, express, and accept his or her feelings.

Sharing distinctively Christian caring resources. Stephen Ministers may share a prayer, a Bible verse or story, or other caring gestures that the care receiver would welcome.

Remaining process-oriented. Stephen Ministers do not try to fix the care receiver or his or her problems; they focus on the process of caregiving and rely on God to achieve results.

Relating assertively. Stephen Ministers respect both the needs of the care receiver and their own needs as well.

Maintaining boundaries. Stephen Ministers set appropriate boundaries in the caring relationship, helping the care receiver remain as independent as possible while being there for the care receiver as needed.

Recommending professional care when necessary. Stephen Ministers are not trained to care for those who are suicidal, severely depressed, abusive, or homicidal, or who are abusing drugs or alcohol. If Stephen Ministers recognize that their care receiver’s needs exceed the care they are able to provide, they recommend the care receiver receive professional care.

Maintain Confidentiality
Stephen Ministers understand that confidentiality is crucial in any caring relationship. The care receiver needs to know that what he or she says to the Stephen Minister will remain in confidence. Stephen Ministers maintain confidentiality.

Help Identify People in Need of Stephen Ministry
Stephen Ministers are alert for those individuals who would benefit from the care of a Stephen Minister.

Participate in Twice-Monthly Supervision and Continuing Education Sessions
Stephen Ministers participate faithfully in Small Group Peer Supervision and continuing education, coming prepared to every supervision session. Supervision provides Stephen Ministers with support, guidance, and accountability for their caring relationships.

Help the Congregation Understand and Value Stephen Ministry
Through their service, Stephen Ministers help the congregation understand Stephen Ministry and encourage congregation members to refer persons they know are in crisis to receive the care they need.

If you would like to join Asbury’s Stephen Ministry team, you may pick up a Stephen Ministry Application in the church office; please return it to the office by December 5. Asbury’s new training class is scheduled to start on January 6, 2019.

Grow In Faith

Advent Tuesday Night Worship

For Tuesday nights during Advent, December 4, 11 and 18, we will have a brief worship service that will include prayers, scripture, a Christmas story and singing from 7-7:30 p.m. in the Chapel. This will provide a time for us to escape the busyness of the season and center ourselves in worship. All are welcome. Child care will be provided (although children are welcome to attend). The December 18 service will be our Longest Night or Blue Christmas service where we focus on dealing with grief during the holidays. We hope you will join us.

Advent Reflection Times

As Christmas approaches do you ever yearn for a place of peace? If so join me in an Advent journey. Each Sunday morning in Room 10 at 9a.m. We will share a time of quiet reflection as we move toward the mystery and awe of Jesus' birth.

2019 Women’s Retreat

March 8-10, 2019

Asbury’s Women’s Retreat is March 8-10, 2019 at San Damiano Retreat Center. Our theme: Knowing Me, God and You. We will use the Myers Briggs Type Indicator and Jung's Theory of Personality types to learn and practice a variety of spiritual disciplines. We will discover why some spiritual disciplines are meaningful to us; why others are not and why something we just love doesn't work for someone else or why something we don't like is so meaningful to another. We will also have the opportunity to work on developing our shadow side. Pastor Kathy will be the Resource Leader. The retreat format is Friday night dinner through 11:00 a.m. on Sunday. There'll be free time on Saturday for walks/hikes, meditation, making new friends, physical activities, spiritual direction, learning how to play handbells, arts and crafts, and possible massages will be available. Registration forms will be available in January. All women are encouraged to attend.

Dear Asbury members,

In this season of thanks, we in the garden find ourselves thankful for so much. The recent rain that is helping the fire fighters extinguish the catastrophic fires throughout our state. Our thoughts and prayers are with those that have suffered so much these past weeks.

As we work as individuals to give what help we can to the fire survivors, we are busy working in the garden to continue providing fresh vegetables to our neighbors in need here at home. Switching the garden from summer crops to winter vegetable crops is almost complete with 67 of the garden’s 75 beds now growing winter vegetables. The remaining 8 beds will be planted in edible cover crops like fava beans to give them a rest.

We have been able to start harvesting our first winter crops: root crops like beets, turnips and carrots, greens things like peas, broccoli, kale, collards, lettuce, and bok choy. Soon the cabbage, cauliflower and carrots will be ready to harvest too.

We are thankful for the opportunity to share all the bounty of the garden with our community. It is really fun to watch a young person try beet greens or peas plucked straight from the vine for the first time.

On a more personal note I am very grateful to all of you for your well wishes and prayers after my recent heart attack. I give credit to all the good thoughts of so many people for my rapid recovery. My doctors are very happy with it. I am also extremely grateful for a wonderful group of volunteers who stepped up to take on completing the transition while I have been recuperating, and they rocked it out.

Until next we meet, please take care of yourselves and may kindnesses fill your days.

Sincerely,
